Funds for setting up of LPG bottling plants

4605. SHRI RAMDAS AGARWAL: Will the Minister of PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS be pleased to state:

(a) what is the estimated demand and availability position of LPG during 1995-96, as on date, State-wise;

(b) whether any study has been undertaken so far by his Ministry in this regard; if so, what is the gap between demand and availability of LPG for 1995-96 and 1996-97 and the projections thereof for the next three years and upto 2000 AD, indicating how Government propose to bridge the gap;

(c) what are the locations of new bottling plants, State-wise, company-wise and year-wise; and

(d) what amount of funds for setting up of bottling plants during 1995—99 is available with the Ministry, including foreign/private sector involvement therefor to meet the shortage of funds?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS (CAPT. SATISH SHARMA): (a) to (d) Before VIII plan, LPG market studies were based on LPG absorption programmes linked with indigenous LPG production from the Refineries and fractionating plants. The primary objective was to reduce kerosene imports. However, growing popularity of LPG as a domestic cooking fuel and highly subsidised price led to high demand potential which exceeded indigenous availability. Keeping in view the growth in wait list, Government asked the Oil Industry to draw up a comprehensive LPG demand saturation programme during the VIII plan period, which apart from augmentation of LPG production also included development of LPG import facilities so that the demand gap can be met through imports. Accordingly the VIII plan LPG programme was formulated.

The demand of LPG of the existing customers and the customers proposed to be enrolled by the Public Sector Oil Companies during 1995-96 is estimated at 3665 TMT. The latest review of VIII plan indicates that the wait list is growing despite increased enrolment. Indigenous production would fall short in 1995-96 and 1996-97 from VIII Plan estimates, due to delay in some of the fractionation Plants Materialisation. The new import facilities at Kandla and Mangalore scheduled to come up in 1996-97 would make up for short fall in indigenous production in 1996-97.

A statement showing location of LPG bottling plants being set up by the Public Sector Oil Companies is enclosed. (See below)

The funds required for setting up new bottling plants will be met from the internal resources of the concerned oil companies.
